Cynefin™ in Action - How to Boost Innovation and Collaboration

What if... the evidence based innovation was created – in your own context, using the principles of complexity science, not traditional project management?

This one day workshop is for those with a working knowledge of the framework. It is designed to extend skills and capabilities in applying the Cynefin™ complexity framework and associated methods in areas such as:

- Partnering and collaboration – across silos, within and between organisations, with communities and multiple stakeholders,
- Maximising engagement and maintaining momentum,
- Embracing a diversity of perspectives,
- Undertaking innovation in context,
- Designing, monitoring and measuring the impact of change strategies.

The workshop provides experiential learning opportunities with a highly experienced and diverse team of facilitators and participants

The Workshop Process

- Uses complex facilitation principles and processes.
- The agenda is developed from the interests and priorities of the participants.
- It is highly experiential, with participants practicing the facilitation of the selected methods.
- Explores the difference between traditional and complex methods.
- Integrate complex methods and facilitation processes into existing practice and support appropriate application.
- Provides practice in design and facilitation of complex methods and processes appropriate to context.

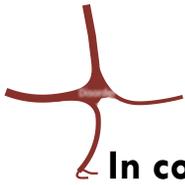

If you want to discuss your current knowledge and understanding of the framework , please email the facilitators and one of us will contact you – info@complexability.com.au. Please note: Registration for this option only does not include access to the on line course, or network membership as part of the course fee.
